Introduction
The International Conference of Buildings, Construction and Environmental Engineering is a periodical event and being held every two years. The first conference, BCEE1, was organized in Baghdad, Iraq in 2013 and the second, BCEE2, took place in Beirut, Lebanon in 2015. The BCEE3 was held on October 23-25, 2017 in the Congress Center of the Maritim Jolie Ville Resort, Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt. This event was organized jointly by the Building and Construction Engineering Department, University of Technology, UOT, Iraq, and the Faculty of Engineering, Menoufia University, MU, Egypt.

Objectives
1. Providing a forum for researchers to show their researches, conducting a discussion of these scientific researches, exchanging views and experiences, and strengthening the link between researchers and specialists
2. Review of the most important experiences and national developments in the field of Building, Construction and Environment Engineering.
4. Exchanging of experiences and encouraging communication between the University of Technology, and local and International Universities in specialized scientific aspects to insure the quality assurance.
5. Benefiting from the experiences of companies and relevant institutions at the work fields of Building and Construction Engineering to identify the problems and work obstacles and give solutions for them.
6. Suggesting scientific strategies to invest the researches and systematic studies in management and development works of Building, Construction and Environment Engineering and how to modify the resources management for the implementation of the engineering projects in the Middle East region.

Conference Topics
1. Structural Engineering.
2. Building Materials Engineering and Nanotechnology.
5. Sanitary and Environmental Engineering.
6. Construction Management.
8. Geomatics Engineering (Surveying, Photogrammetry, Remote Sensing and GIS).
