

Preface

2019 7th International Conference on Traffic and Logistic Engineering (ICTLE 2019) was held in Paris, France during the period August 21st-23rd, 2019. The shared event provided a forum for accessing up-to-date knowledge, both from the industrial and the academic viewpoints.

The proceedings include both basic and applied research papers. All of the manuscripts were peer-reviewed by the conference committee members and by external international reviewers, leading to a high quality selection of great relevance for topics related to Logistic, Transportation Engineering and Industrial Engineering.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people that contributed to the success of the event. In particular, the keynote speakers Prof. Khair S. Jadaan from University of Jordan, Jordan and Prof. Jagienka Rześny Ciepłńska from WSB University in Gdansk, Poland.

We would like also to thank the committee members for their hard work in making this conference possible. Finally, many thanks to the reviewers for their excellent job to maintain the high academic quality of this conference.

Final thanks go to all authors and participants at ICTLE 2019 for helping to make it a successful event.
