On behalf of the organizing and scientific committee of the AMCM 2020 conference, as a editor of the proceedings, I declare that the review process of the conference articles was carried out according to the double-blind review procedure, in compliance with all standards of publication ethics.

All contributions were initially assessed by the editor for suitability for the proceedings. Papers deemed suitable were then sent to a minimum of two independent expert reviewer from scientific committee to assess the scientific quality of the paper. Several of the articles received negative reviews and were rejected. The collection contains only publications that received clearly two positive reviews.

With kindest regards,
